This Bible lesson about the prodigal son was first taught the chapel service of a Christian Elementary school to about 45 children. Grades K4 – 6th were present. Before the lesson, the children participated in several songs and group Bible memory exercises. Target length of this lesson is 25 minutes. This lesson would be great for kids children's Sunday school or children's church.

Learning Objective: After this lesson, children will demonstrate understanding that God wants to save everyone (both sinful people & self-righteous people).

Learning Indicator: Test: Children will answer open-ended questions that show their comprehension.

Target Age Group: 5 – 12 years old {U.S. Kindergarten – 6th Grade}

Bible Story: Luke 15:11-32 The Parable of the Prodigal Son

Items Needed:

- Print out this lesson plan. 🖨️ PRINT
- Marked Bible for this passage. Prepare the copy in advance by highlighting the significant points to emphasize. Underlining words or ideas that will need additional explanation. I typically make small notes in the margin.

Explanation: In the parable of the prodigal son, Jesus was teaching that God wants to forgive both sinners and self-righteous people. The real focus of this story is the longsuffering father, who continues to love both sons as they dishonor him. It is a beautiful story of God's love and determination to see the lost return to him.

Because of my teaching setting, I emphasized the message that “rule-keepers” and “good kids” need to be forgiven too. It is important to make the connection that the pride of self-righteous people needs forgiven just as much as the wild living of prodigals.

Much of my thinking on this parable has been informed by the excellent book by Tim Keller called The Prodigal God. It is a book that explains God's grace and Jesus' parable of the prodigal son. For more help, read a review of the book by Trevin Wax.

Teaching Plan: The Parable of the Prodigal Son

(aka The Lost Brothers & The Running Father)

Hook (Lesson Introduction): Call two adult helpers up to the front. Explain to the class that you are going to pretend these are two very different children. (Choose pretend names for them that no children present have.)

Say: “The first child is named Kyra and she never follows rules. Many people call her a bad kid. The other is named Amy and she always follows rules.”

Ask the children to make up different good and bad things these two different pretend children might do. After each suggestion, have the adult helpers act out that behavior. Here are some examples.

- Kyra throws fits, but the Amy always uses good manners
- Kyra steals, but the Amy always share her things
- Kyra talks bad about people, but Amy always says nice things
- Kyra is lazy at school, but Amy always works very hard
- Kyra thinks church is dumb, but Amy loves going to church

Ask the children: Who do you want for a friend? Who does God like more? Say:

Jesus liked to teach people that God really does love everyone, but many times the “church-people” would get upset and think they were better than the “sinners.” This is a story that Jesus told them to show that both kind of people need forgiveness and that God wants to save everyone.

It’s a special kind of teaching story called a parable. The Father in the story shows us what God is like. The brothers in the story show us what we are like. The point is that God wants to save both people who follow the rules and people who break all the rules.

Active Listening: Call on three children to act out the Bible story while you tell it. If possible, pick kids with dramatic personalities. Say:

In this Bible story, we’re going to hear about two brothers that seem very different, but really have a lot in common. We’re also going to hear about their dad who is keeps loving his children even when they treat him very badly. I want you to listen carefully to the way each brother treat the father and the way the father responds.

Read Luke 15:11-32: Be sure to engage the children with good story telling. Ask unscripted questions to clarify points in the story. The questions under “review” below are the key points for them to understand from the lesson, so be sure to emphasize them as you read.

True / False Review: Ask the children to choose which of the following statements are correct. If the statement is correct they should stand, if it is false they should remain seated.

- The brothers in this story were named Bob & Joe. {False}
- The Father in this story helps us to learn about God {True}
- Sin can be an action or an attitude. {True}
- The brothers in this story honored their father. {False}
- People who break rules need Jesus to save & forgive them. {True}
- People who follow rules need Jesus to save & forgive them. {True}
- Some people are too bad for God to love. {False}
- People who follow rules need Jesus to save them. {True}

Compare Two Sons: Use the following questions to help the children

Young Brother (ran away) • How did this brother dishonor his father? • How did the Father respond to this bad behavior? • What do you think it would take to make the Father stop loving this Son? • What do you think the Son will do next?	Older Brother (stayed home) • How did this brother dishonor his father? • How did the Father respond to this bad behavior? • What do you think it would take to make the Father stop loving this Son? • What do you think the Son will do next?
--	---

Test: Call on volunteers to answer the following questions. Ask follow up questions to ensure they understand the objective of the lesson.

- Which brother do you think Jesus wants us to copy?
- Which brother do you think deserved to be forgiven by the Father?
- What does this the Father in this story show us about God?
- According to this story, what kind of people does God not love?

Look / Took: Ask the children to think about one real person they know, or have heard about that seems like a very “bad” person. Then ask the following questions:

- How does God feel about that person?
- How does God want you to feel about that person?
- Ask them to begin to pray for that person and to ask God to help them love that person better.
- Make a plan to do that tonight.
